HALFWAY HOUSE

Midway up the steep slope of a mountain stands a friendly little shack where the climbers may pause for a cup of coffee and for a few moments rest before continuing their laborious upward ascent. When an unexpected storm catches an unwary climber here, they may repair to the cabin and there find shelter from the rain or snow.

In a few short days, after examinations, we too, will be at the halfway point in our school year. After a stiff climb of four and a half months we can pause before plunging back to the task at hand. While we pause, though, let us look back over what is already accomplished and then look forward and up to the peak toward which we are striving.

Have we made the most of our opportunities so far this year? Are we keeping a sane and balanced school life, continually broadening our knowledge not only of facts but of ways and means of adapting ourselves to life's situations? Perhaps we have concentrated too much on outside activities or social life. Here at the halfway mark we must stop to get our bearings and try to straighten out a few twists in the trail we have left behind us.

What is our aim in college? "Education" or "Preparation for a life work" are almost inevitable answers. Wartburg offers training or education for Christian living. Halfway house is a place to stop and see if we have taken this opportunity for growth in Christian life. May we grit our teeth and keep up the fight until in June we may reach the goal at the peak of a year's climbing.

LET US PRAY

Visitors often comment upon the devotional practices of Wartburg college and generally the comments are very favorable including comment upon table prayers in the boarding club, conducted by pre-theological students.

However, recently two sources of disturbance have arisen to disturb the devotional attitude—the noises of clanging dishes and loud talking among those in the kitchen and, secondly, unnecessary noise made by the students themselves after the warning bell has rung. The acoustics of the dining hall make it difficult at times to hear the leader even when he has no competition from unthinking outsiders.

Since it is a regular part of our meals to have devotions, those in the kitchen could easily guard against excessive noise preceding the prayers and the students themselves could cease all noise at the sound of the bell and reverently attend to the prayer in a spirit of devotion characteristic of the true Christian atmosphere.—Charles E. Schmitz.

WE, THE PEP CLUB

The Pep club of Wartburg college wishes to assure the student body that our organization is solely interested in benefits to the college. Our efforts this year have been to foster and perpetuate a school spirit that will grow and boost the college. With that end in mind we undertook the purchase of uniforms which cost $25.89 and megaphones for the cheer leaders, costing $2.50. These will be preserved with athletic equipment and used for several years.

Again with the same end in view we undertook the purchase of drapes for our stage, costing $150.64. To our surprise this project entailed more than the drapes. It required a rod, a pulley, and rollers on which to hang the drapes, which cost $60. These bills totalled $150.64. We received donations of $105 and after paying the remainder of the megaphone and uniform bills, we were able to raise the amount paid on the curtain bill to $117.05. This leaves a balance of $33.59 to be paid. This amount must be raised in some manner by the Pep club.

We have no desire except to cooperate with the Dramatic club, the Lyceum, or any group desiring the use of the stage. We, as an organization, receive no direct benefits from the project except in having a small part in improving our Alma Mater.

We, the Pep club, believe that we should all cooperate and do our best to foster and promote a spirit of loyalty to our school, and make every effort to build up and boost that institution.—Mrs. R. M.

Editor's Notebook

Vagaries of student judges in intercollegiate debates have been brought out in the recent series between Wartburg and Lyttelton. Perhaps in the interest of brotherly love it would be better to insist on impartial, non-college judges—at both points of meeting.

New-fallen snow, unbroken and serene as the blue dawn is a sight to stir even the most unpoetic. After the London-like mist, fog, and dripping of the early weeks in January, nature's emerald mantle was a welcome sight to all but the campus snow-shovelling crew.

A splendid novel, well worth taking the time to read is "Northwest Passage"—delicately perused by the scribbler in a few of those rare moments of leisure. Kenneth Roberts to our notion stands at the top of the field in contemporary history novelists.

As we think of many of the problems that confront Wartburg as its students today, the thought comes that the striving after our ideal as a Christ-centered, church-oriented institution should remain constantly before all of us. Other colleges and universities have more money and other assets with which to build up their school, but we can have something here too. The purpose is to have a living, breathing body of our school life. "A house divided against itself."

The woes of the college newspaper makers received silent but effective publicity in our last issue of the Collegian. Upper Iowa news sheet Page Two carried, instead of the usual double-column editorial, a notice of a long, black-bordered space inscribed "In Memory of Editorials That Are Never Read." Quite appropriate, although somewhat macabre in its spirit.

Page one contained one of these errors which cause editors to be seared and call for aspirin tablets. Semester examinations were scheduled to be scheduled in December instead of the more proper January. Our sympathy and hopes for a speedy recovery.

Woes of the sports department centered in the fact that the paper appeared the day after the game, but I want to assure before the miserable tilt. Were they surprised when the editor's prediction of a four-point win came true—with interest!

Irony and tragedy: Shortly before the Christmas holidays Iowa colleges received circulars warning home-going students not to drive recklessly and avoid traffic accidents. Less than a week after, Wartburgers had had their first major accident in the daily papers, the death of three Western Union students in an auto crash. One was Ben Meade, center on the team which defeated Wartburg last fall on the local gridiron. Our sympathy and hopes for a speedy recovery.

BRAUCK NAMED N. L. E. C. PREXY

Louisville Convention
Elects Wartburg Man to Important Post.

Dr. E. J. Brauck, who served as president of the National Lutheran Educational conference for 1939 at its twenty-sixth annual conference held in Louisville, Ky., Jan. 6, 9, and 10. During the past year, Dr. Brauck has served the conference as vice president.

The conference, which is composed of about fifty Lutheran colleges and universities, meets each year in conjunction with the association of Church Related Colleges.

Prof. H. J. Arnold of Wittenberg college, Springfield, Ohio, a former instructor of Wartburg, was named secretary of the conference.

The next meeting will be held at Philadelphia next June in conjunction with a meeting of the Lutheran World convention. In January, 1940, the conference will meet together with the Association of Church Related Colleges.

Board of Regents Will Meet Feb. 1

Wartburg's board of regents plans to meet Wednesday, Feb. 1, to discuss academic, financial and scholastic problems of the school. Those expected to attend are:

Rev. C. T. Langlois, president, Columbus, Ohio; Rev. C. A. Decker, secretary, Lansing, Mich.; Rev. W. J. Adis, Guttenberg, Iowa; P. J. Neubauer, Odessa, Iowa; Rev. L. G. Krebs, Davenport, Iowa; Kurt Augustine, Eau Claire, Wis., and George Bausch, Waterloo, Iowa.

Music Notes

The girls' trio sang "The Pando Song," "The Green Cathedral," and "Lift Thine Eyes" at the Rotary club meeting, Thursday, Jan. 12. For convocation Friday, Jan. 13, they sang "Lift Thine Eyes." They closed "An Sacred With Jesus" at the Math service Sunday, Jan. 15.

Kenneth Neuenberg, freshman, played a saxophone solo "Call of the Sea" for convocation Tuesday, Jan. 17. Leon Hauff accompanied him.

The college band, under the direction of Prof. E. G. Heist, is playing for the basketball games. Leonard Sandrock, takes charge when the director is absent. Several new pieces have been purchased for the band.

On behalf of the entire student body, we, the writers of this column, wish to express our deepest sympathy to the male students, due to the fact that they are slightly indisposed with colds. We hope for a speedy recovery so that this column may be lengthened.

A unique number, sung at convocation Friday, Jan. 20, was a German solo by Richard Bunge, freshman. He sang "Geleit" by Hiller. He was accompanied by Leon Hoff.

The G. Ottersberg, A. W. Swensen and John Hiltner families gathered at the Hiltner home for a perfect dinner and social evening Monday.

"COURAGE"

Christian hearts are disturbed by the anti-religious, the anti-church, the anti-God forces, that are applying their efforts to undermine the foundations of our homes, our schools, our government, our personal purity and honesty. Powers of evil, not least among them, gambling, alcohol, dance, are exerting immeasurable influence upon old and young alike, to the corruption of right thinking people. The dangers are augmented by the fact that we find so few who really stop to think. It is easier to follow the line of least resistance and to accept matters as they come instead of contending with might and main for truth and right.

John the Baptist found a similar situation in his day. He faced those of high and low estate, the religious and non-religious, and pointed out to them the error of their ways; calling for a closer walk with God and His principles of life. It took courage to speak the truth. It took courage to face Herod and condemn his marriage to his brother Phillip's wife. The Baptist was even thrown into jail for it.

The courage of John the Baptist is the courage we need today. The courage of conviction; the courage to know the truth, to confess the truth, to live the truth, to preach the truth.

Such courage must be divinely inspired. It presupposes a consecrated soul; a soul definitely in communion with God and yielding to His power. Our churches serve souls to that end. Our church colleges continue to foster and feed that spiritual life and to grant courage to the young people. Life is more than making a living. Life is a battle for truth and righteousness in the Lord.

May Wartburg college with its consecrated faculty of men and women ever be true to the Lord in preparing young people for life and its battle. May our young people ever rightly value the blessed guidance of our church schools.—Louis C. Krebs.

PROMINENT CHURCHMEN ON COMMENCEMENT LIST

At a special meeting Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, the senior class selected two prominent churchmen as prospective commencement day speakers. Invitations will be sent by President Braulick to the class.

Herbert Adix, business manager of the Postress, presented plans for the taking of the senior class pictures for the annual.

NEW SEMINARIAN BEGINS DUTIES

Dr. Mattes Starts Work
at Wartburg Sem:
on Monday.

Dr. John C. Mattes, recently appointed as a member of the faculty of Wartburg seminary, will teach his first class on Monday morning, Jan. 23 at the Dubuque institution. His teaching schedule includes classes in the life of Luther and symbols. Official installation ceremonies are set for Feb. 6.

The Board of Regents of Wartburg seminary extended the call to Dr. Mattes late in October following the death of Dr. Emil Rauch, seated president of the institution. Dr. Mattes graduated from Mt. Airy seminary and was ordained to the Lutheran ministry in 1901. Muhlenberg college conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him in 1925.

In addition to serving congregations at Trenton, New Jersey, and Stratford, Pa., Dr. Mattes has found time to serve as a member of the interdenominational committee on the translation of Luther's Small Catechism in 1925 and to devote some time to theological writings. He is the author of "The Church and the Mission of Christ in the World," published in 1924, and was the translator of Prof. Koerber's well-known work, "Rechtfertigung und Heiligung."

Seminary Notes

Wartburg Seminary

Dr. John C. Mattes and family arrived on the campus over the Christmas holidays, and have taken residence in the home formerly occupied by the late Dr. E. Rauch.

Dr. J. Carl Painter, director and superintendent of Sunny Crest sanatorium, gave an illustrated lecture on the care and treatment of tuberculosis, before the student body on January 2, under the auspices of the Mission society.

Dr. Painter pointed out very forcibly through the use of charts that the spread of tuberculosis, while not hereditary, is a social evil due to contagious members of the same family. He also spoke on the symptoms and cure of the disease as an aid to students in their future pastoral work.

Mr. Arno Oberleider traced the history and program of communism, both abroad and in the United States, to the members of the International Relations club on January 10.

Former Wartburger Center of Mystery

Amos A. Belknap, a young Waverly attorney, has been missing since Saturday, Jan. 14. He has not been seen since about 12:45 on Saturday morning when Herb Paup of Wartburg saw him walking on the street. Since that time no trace has been found of the 23-year-old lawyer who came to Waverly from Tipton, Iowa, in the summer of 1938 and opened an office.

Belknap was a graduate of Tipton high school, where his father was superintendent of schools for several years. He attended Wartburg Normal college from 1930 to 1931 and one semester of the year 1931 to 1932. He then enrolled at the University of Iowa.

He was making good progress in building a legal practice and was well liked by other members of his profession.

Alumni Member Identifies Old Cut

The "Do You Remember" cut in the last issue of the Trumpet was identified for us by Mrs. William Collitz, nee Hilda Weiss, as the girls' glee club of 1925 under the direction of Professor Martin Heyde.

Mrs. Collitz, writing from Maculino, Iowa, listed the following names along with the name of Director Heyde: Frieda Kruse, Marie Hundt, Minnie Tschelkey, Bertha Handwig, Irma Kuntze, Marie Reyelt, Pauline Heller, Emma Matthias, Helen Ottersberg, Alma Bendish, Frieda Musgelle, Olga Hunsd, Esther Emmer, Hilda Baerman, Dorothy Korn, Gertrude Mathias, Hilda Weid, Helen Beck, Ruth Woodruff, Ila Oberheu, Henrietta Habsburga, Anna Peirman, Frieda Schmidt, Dora Erdine, Clara Herold, Lucille Schornhorst.

Food: A Delicious Subject When Anyone Is Hungry

Wartburg Provides for Keeping Body and Soul United.

Of all the things to write about there seems to be no tendency to write about something which will appeal to the mind. Of course, we all came to college to learn, and without the latter part of the mind, we cannot entirely overlook it. We must receive both mental nourishment and vice versa, for the development of the body and the quality of the

In this dissertation let us briefly consider food at Wartburg. At least one student spends the most time discussing food than they spend digesting it.

Individual Tastes Vary. What are the meals at Wartburg like? So many of us when we come to school are accustomed to the type of "mother used to cook." If the college meals differ from our individual meals, we are often dissatisfied. We fail to realize that the dining hall is composed of students representing at least one hundred and fifty individual homes. Thus, in all probability, there are at least one hundred and fifty individual tastes.

It would of course be improbable for us to expect the tastes of all individuals to be satisfied day after day. But leaving discussion of individual tastes, let us focus our attention toward the nutritious quality of the food we receive at Wartburg. Do we not receive food fairly in quantity and sufficient in quantity? Of course, the meals we are receiving at Wartburg are meals "fit for a king." Probably we do not receive the most extravagant dishes, but extravagance does not conclude healthfulness. Economy, furthermore, does not conduce starvation.

A Good Word for the Chef. Some of us seem to forget that we receive good food. We spread false propaganda when friends inquire about the type of food we get, not stopping to think—how to foresee the grief it may cause to the cooks who are trying their best to satisfy us. We don't realize that they have a problem of satisfying all of us, and so far they have done the best that can be expected. They have served us good meals. Why not, when someone asks us about meals, give the cooks a few compliments, even if that would be somewhat indirect. They deserve praise and the least we can do is tell others that they are giving us meals that are good.

OFF CAMPUS

Dr. Hiltner Conducts
Sunday School Course.

Adopting his course for Sunday school teachers to groups outside the college, Dr. Hiltner, head of the Christianity department, is at present instructing a group of about 50 Sunday school teachers from Clarksville, Allison, and Greene (Vanner Congregation). The course is "Introduction to Sunday School Teaching," which the first of three parts compiled by Dr. Hiltner for the second semester of the college.

The group meets twice a month on Thursday evenings at alternate places. Upon the completion of the first part of the course the group will receive a credit card from the college. A certificate will be issued when the entire course has been completed.

Students Suffer Various Ailments

Numerous students in the various dormitories have been suffering the ill effects of the variable weather as well as other ailments common to the college campus. The plague has been especially wide-spread during the past week. Among those ill in Grossmann hall were Leonard Fritschel, and infectious. Herman Schoenberg, blood-poisoning in his right thumb. Raymond Kronberger, Russ Kraus, and Vernon May, serious colds, causing each of them to spend a short period of time in bed. Ernest Berk, who had a slight touch of flu, and Rudolf Langholz, who is still suffering from a slight inflammation of the mastoid, according to Charles Schmitz. Grossmann hall inmates in North Hall, see himself had to take to bed on doctor's orders. Norman Becker, pre-medical student and basketball captain, had a skin infection on his right knee. Albert C. Schumacher was also in bed. Ernest Berk, who had a short while as the result of an injury irritated in the Dubuque basketball game Saturday morning.

The girls proved to be more adaptable to changeable weather. Even Norma Schumacher, cold and Lorna Mae Folkerts' knee injury, the girls had little more than the average sniffles of colds.

COUNCIL PLANS OPEN HOUSE

Student Council Decides
Sunday After Exams
as Opportune Time.

The Student Council held its regular meeting Sunday morning at Wartburg hall. The council decided to have an "open house" in all the dormitories at the close of the first semester. Since the council is favorable to the plan, it was decided that the Sunday after exams would be set aside for a number of hours in order that the students may visit the dorms. The Sunday after exams seemed the logical day to set aside since everyone should be in the mood for a bit of relaxation and social acquaintance.

The president presented the first topic from the book "Campus Accidents" by Dr. Hiltner. He was considering the philosophy of student life and the necessity for an education that developed phases of the student.

The next topic will be presented by Ben Berkman at the meeting on Sunday, Jan. 22.

MRS. F. BRAULICK PASSED AWAY

President Braulick's Mother Died Jan. 3 at Home of Her Son in Waverly.

Mrs. Henrietta Braulick of Pine City, Minn., died here Monday noon, Jan. 9, at the home of her son, Pres. E. J. Braulick.

Several arrangements were not made until the return of President Braulick, who was attending a conference in Louisville, Ky. His sister, Mrs. C. L. Turnbull of Muskegon, arrived Tuesday.

Rev. C. C. Schuler conducted a short prayer service at Kaizer's funeral home Thursday afternoon, and the following day a church service was held at the Zion Lutheran church in Pine City, Rev. Carl Sieging officiating.

Mrs. Braulick had been in Waverly since September, and although in poor health for the past several months, she died peacefully Sunday morning, Jan. 9.

Born in Germany, April 2, 1865, she came to the United States as a young girl and was married in St. Cloud, Minn., to Frank Braulick, who preceded her in death April 25, 1928.

Surviving in addition to her son and daughter, is a sister, Mrs. Forsake of St. Paul.

PREXY ATTENDS BIBLE GROUP

Dr. John Hiltner Assigned
Topic by A. L. C. Conference in Minneapolis.

Pres. E. J. Braulick represented Wartburg at a convention of the Lutheran Synod of the United States at the Lutheran Conference in Minneapolis, Dec. 23 and 24.

He presided at the convention which was at the Center for Continuation Study on the campus of the University of Minnesota.

Letters for discussion centered principally around accreditation of Bible courses and text books. Appropriate resolutions were adopted.

Several papers were assigned to the members of the A. L. C. conference members with Dr. Hiltner assigned, "Bibliography of Lutheran Theologies for the Church in Relation at Wartburg School."

The Faculty Women's club enjoyed a poverty party at the home of Mrs. W. Schaefer, with Mrs. M. Widenberger and Mrs. R. J. Kuhnman assisting.

Cher and donuts were served after the enjoyable evening of entertainment last Wednesday.

They Said "Counterfeit!" But It Was Psychology

As Dollars Rip in Grossmann Hall
Brainstorm.

by Richard Wall

Can you tell a counterfeit dollar bill from the real one? Of course, Well, don't let it bother you. Any person of average mentality could tell it with ease. But when the dollar bill, Grossmann hall thought they could the other day and thereby hangs the tale.

Dr. Hiltner's Schmitz felt a brainstorm following a few days ago, so he took to shelter and not only affects the dream provided to be a good one and yielded interesting (not to mention amusing) results.

Next Fritz Schmitz proceeded to the private chamber of "Orator" here. Here he was met by Ortha private secretary, Strunkes. Dr. Orator coldly refused the proposition by stating fiercely, "When a guy sells a bill for $50 there is something wrong."

Leeseberg Goes Through. Another psychology "trumpet" Leeseberg, called on Doctor Schmitz and thinking to amuse him, he decided to try the whole experiment. He discussed vigorously on the gullibility of humans. He then showed notes to the "Bishop" and offered it for sale. The "Bishop" carefully examined the bill and then, after a long and scornful pronouncement his verdict, "This bill," he said, "is a counterfeit."

Consequently it is counterfeit. To prove his point definitely he took the bill and after crushing each bill into a tiny ball he dropped them on the floor. His single eye detected a slight difference in the rate of acceleration despite the fact neither bounced as high as expected.

Grouped around him, the "scrawny fingers he shouted, "It is beyond the shadow of a doubt counterfeit."

At this stage of his psychological experiment even Prof. Schmitz was not able to find a reason for his dollar bill. He reassured himself with the knowledge that it was one of Uncle Sam's best.

He! Smells Something.

He continued his experiment by calling on Governor Hoff. The Governor peered over his thick glasses and considered the situation. He cautiously examined the bill then raised his head and shook it in a melody of "Why you crumb, you! It's not worth $50. It smells funny!"

Even the aristocrats of Grossmann hall were not excluded from this interesting experiment. Mr. Wagner, Mr. Stanel, Mr. Eruehling, Mr. Adis, Mr. Delaney, Mr. Ritter, Mr. Langholz, Mr. Seatt, Mr. Schoenberg and Mr. Ziegler were all various and sundry reasons to offer why the bill was counterfeit. Reasons were offered which ran from the weight of the bills to the texture of the paper, and the gentleman, namely Mr. Ritter, proclaimed the texture of the paper to be definitely inferior to that which is used by our glorious nation when it prints its currency.

In the process of expounding the distinctive marks of deceit on one of the "proof" words that had been in the fifth grade.

Friedles Not So Dumb. Mr. Friedles, the president of the Senior class, Mr. Friedricks, Fredrick, however, proved that he was not so dumb by buying one of the bills. Then he gave it to the master to compare with the original. He then bought a dollar bill. The difference between two identical bills was pointed out by the master, who had bought a counterfeit. Of course, it would be a natural reaction to tear a thing like that up. That is exactly what Friedrick did. He demolished his own dollar bill. He literally tore it to shreds! Mr. Friedricks now maintained that he himself, is an idiot and says, "I offer proof to any who may desire it, the proof won't be necessary, Friedrick!"

This interesting experiment now has been concluded. Dr. Schmitz has filed the data for future reference. Your reporter here, by promising that he would write on the part of Dr. Schmitz will be brought to you by this same means.

On Friday, Jan. 6, however, he turned the tables on his erstwhile coach, Coach McKinzie, and as a result the students were addressed the Waverly high school assembly in a return engagement. Side-splitting humor during the occasion was offered by Coach Pries and his trained humorist, "played by" Lina Eide and Erna Moeve. They expected the which was given as a part of the Pop Club Student night program.

MISS LORNA MAE FOLKERTS INJURES KNEE FLIGHTS

Lorna Mae Folkerts, junior from Palmer, Iowa, suffered an unfortunate mishap two weeks ago when she tore a knee ligament while playing ping-pong in the gymnasium. Since then Lorna has been confined to the dormitory, her knee in a cast. Under the care of doctor, injury is healing as fast as can be expected, but it will be necessary for Lorna to use crutches several weeks.

 Knights 59-29.

Bray and Alderson versus the Wartburg quintet. That is the story of the crushing defeat administered by the Upper Iowa scores to Wartburg on the Fayette square Tuesday, Jan. 10. The final score Upper Iowa 59, Wartburg 29.

Two Fresh Lead Afloat. It was Bray and Alderson, two top freshmen sharpshooters, that turned all their speed, power and accuracy against the Knights in the one-sided fray. Between them, these two fresh castles accounted for 39 points, ten more than the entire Knight squad was able to gather. Bray shot for 22 points on 10 field goals and two free throws with Alderson adding the hoop for 17 trifles.

The show put on by these dead eyes was well worth four bells by Jimmy Fidler as the hoop seemed to take on a powerful magnetic characteristic every time the ball left the hands of Bray or Alderson.

Wartburg Starts Scoring. After the first ten minutes there wasn't any drama as to the outcome of the contest. The locals started the scoring with a field goal by Kappmeyer but that basket was the spark that set off the greatest conflagration of baskets ever put against the Wartburg squad in the Iowa Conference.

Before the locals could turn a finger the twin towers had run up a score of 16 to 2. Reim, the Knight forward, interrupted the fireworks scoring spree by splitting the hoop with a looping field goal. As the half time gun sounded, the score board read 22 to 2 in favor of the host squad.

Kappmeyer, with the aid of Captain Becker and Chudwick, started a determined rally. They potted baskets from every angle of the floor to ring up 14 points in almost no order. But the lead was too great to overcome with the Upper Iowa quintet adding substantially to their score as the minutes rolled away.

Kappmeyer Leads Locals. Kappmeyer's work at guard, both in his defensive and offensive, was especially brilliant. "Kapp" led the Knight scorers with 12 points. The Upper Iowa defense was especially effective and the Wartburg quintet seemed unable to get close to the hoop. Mierion, sharp-shooting forward, was held scoreless.

 in Second Half to Win.

The Wartburg "B" team played the Waterloo independents at the college gym on Friday night, Jan. 13.

The Wartburgers were downed by a score of 30-17. The first half of the game was very close with the score at the end of the half at 13-12 in favor of the local boys.

In the second half Dickinson ran up the score for Waterloo with nine points to his credit. He was high scorer for the Waterloo team with Wagner and Berry tied for second place with seven points apiece.

Langholz was high-scorer for Wartburg with six points, while Sentz was runner-up with five points.

KNIGHTIES WIN
 ONE, LOSE ONE
 Submerge Waverly Six
 in Opener: Drop Close Tilt to Readylin.

With one win and a loss, the Knights, Wartburg's regular squad swung into their regular schedule of tussles this week by topping the Waverly high school 38-15, and being overriden by Readylin 18-15.

In the latter tilt played on the home court Tuesday night, Readylin dashed off to early lead by sinking two field goals, and the score by the half had mounted to 17-5 in their favor. However, Waverly returned from the half to roll in 11 points for a good comeback and to hold their opponents to only two field goals, and in Chuck tossed in 11 points for the losers while McCoy was high for Readylin, also with a total of 11.

The Readylin squad is coached by Irene Glick, former first string of the Knights.

In the first game of the season Wartburg rolled up the sum of 39 points to send their rivals, Waverly, high Hawkins, down in defeat against the slaughtering attack of Violian Glick who tossed 12 baskets.

The winners used their height, ruggedness and experience to outdistance the gray school grid. However, the Hawkins' never quit fighting and came out to meet the ball better and passed on a nut with their older rivals. The guard play of Elmore Groes and Fern Oehsenauer led their foes to 10 baskets, four of them made by Weins.

 Sentz Scores 8 Points to Lead Koob's "B's" to Easy Victory.

Tuesday, Jan. 17, the Wartburg college "B" team outscored a Janesville quintet to the tune of 24 to 10.

Having a 16 to 3 advantage at the half the "B" team completely outmaneuvered the under Janesville boys at all stages of the game.

Playing a nice defensive game and having a fast-breaking offense, the Janesville five repeatedly broke loose for open shots, but the Wartburgers were able to hoop a large number of times.

Scoring honors were heaped on Sentz, Wartburg forward, who scored three field goals and two free throws for a total of eight points.

QUAKERS TRIM
 KNIGHTS 42-35
 Trent and Watson Lead
 Quakers While Mierion
 Leads Knights.

Led by Trent and Watson, the Quakers from Penn college defeated the Wartburg Knights in a home game by the score of 42-35, January 15.

The Knights, playing their first game after Christmas vacation, looked one hundred per cent stronger than in any of their previous games. Mierion, starting in their intercollegiate game, pumped home 14 points to lead the scoring for Wartburg closely followed by Captain Becker with 12 points.

For Penn, Trent and Watson were outstanding scorers. Trent apiece, besides doing some neat ball handling.

Penn Scores First. Penn started the game by grabbing the hoop, and Watson shot home the first basket of the game. Mierion immediately made good one of his two gift shots, and Trent of Penn made a beautiful shot under the basket to bring the count to 4-1. At this point Heat and Mierion of Wartburg avoided two long ones and Kappmeyer added a free throw to put the Knights in the lead 6-4. Here the Knights went into defensive lapse and allowed Trent and his mates to pour in nine tallies before Wartburg showed any sign of coming to life. Oppermann, freshman guard, entered the game and was immediately fouled, making good one of the two chances. Wartburg then took the ball, and Mierion sank two side shots in quick succession, followed by a tip-in shot by Becker, to bring the count to 16-10. However, was not satisfied, sinking a push that followed by a tip-in by Horn. With the half almost over, Becker switched a left handed shot to bring the score to 19-15 at the end of the half.

Wartburg Halts at Half. Wartburg took the ball at the start of the second half and Kappmeyer rammed home a basket, followed by a basket by Trent. Becker of Wartburg retaliated to bring the count to 21-19. From this point on the Quakers took the situation in hand, playing safe basketball and scoring only when the opportunity presented itself. During this time, Becker of the Knights seemed to be the only player able to score, putting in four baskets. With five minutes of the game left, the score stood at 30-23.

Here Kappmeyer drove home his second basket and Mierion again drove in for another basket and was fouled on the shot. Making his charity toss good, the count went up to 39-33. Bamberge of Penn made good one of his two free throws and Wartburg took the ball off the bang-board with Mierion driving home the last basket for the Knights. With a minute left to play, Horn of Penn shot the last basket and the game ended 42-35 in Penn's favor.

The game throughout was marked by lax defensive play on the part of both teams.

DUBUQUE TRIPS KNIGHTS 33-31

EXTRA PERIOD

Invaders Outplayed Locals Lead at Half 20 to 18.

In one of the most bitterly fought and one of the closest contests ever staged on the local floor, the Wartburg cagers dropped a hard defeat on the Duke University in a wild overtime period after holding the lead for most of the close. The thriller was staged in front of a frenzied crowd in the Waverly high school gym, Saturday, Jan. 21.

Wartburg Mims Becker, taking the floor at the outset of the game, showed the decided underdog as they were without the services of their captain, the high jumper, Norman Becker, due to a knee injury. But from the opening whistle the Wartburg five, with Chadwick at the center position, displayed more zip, speed, and team play than the invaders. The second half, the fine ball handling and sharpshooting by the locals caught the Dubuque quieted fast-footed and fast-shooting invaders with a well-oiled machine in penetrating the invaders' defense.

The visiting squad started the scoring with a basket by Lupic, center, as he hoisted a rebound through the hoop. Then Wartburg forward, followed shortly with a field goal from the foul line. Seconds later, the invaders dumped the basket through the hoop from the sidelines to give the Knights a lead they did not relinquish until the end of the first half closed.

Knights Lead at Half
The visiting squad, while collecting two field goals, Kappmeyer and Chadwick each one, Wartburg had the fine ball handling and lead over the Dubuque team that had swamped them 30 to 10 in the Dubuque forenoon. The invaders, led by Lupic, soon pulled up within one point of Kappmeyer, and by the end of the first half, at 17 to 16. After the first half, the Wartburg sent the visitors into a very brief lead.

"Kapp" tied the score at 18 all with a fine shot. Then the invaders switched another field goal to send the Knights off the floor on a tie game on the big end of 20 to 18 count.

As the second half opened, Mims made a good shot which was the only scoring the locals did for six minutes. With ten minutes to go, the close history, the Knights found the scoreboard as listing their trail, 24 to 18. Then, after a heart-thrilling exhibition of long snort, Marty Heist found the basket with his long shot, from far out on the floor and he switched three field goals in quick succession to quiet and raised the lead to the lead. A field goal and a free throw by Kappmeyer brought the Knights' total to 30 with the invaders right on their heels with 28.

The score in Closing Seconds
In a minute, the Wartburg Oppeppman stepped to the foul line and added another counter. Then, with 10 minutes to go, the locals' lead seemed big as they precious seconds ticked away. With a minute left, the Wartburg man fouled Lupic and the Knight guard was ejected from the game. Then, with 30 seconds left, and Schiers took his three charity shots. He caged the first one to 33 to 23. Then, with 15 seconds left, the second shot Schwartz tipped in the rebound to blast the Knights 35 to 23. The third shot, the Knight forward missed both attempts. Effective, stalling in the extra period.

In the overtime, Schiers sank a couple to tie the Dubuque lead to the lead. Schwartz fouled Mims on a short time later, but the Knight forward missed both attempts. Effective, stalling in the extra period.

Golden Glovers

Two Wartburg paradoxes, Norbert August and Ernest Bork, are entered in the local Golden Glovers tournament, which is being held every Jan. 23 and 24 in the high school gymnasium. August, who hails from "Honeycreek," Minn., is mixed in the heavy weight division, while Bork is still striving to scale down to the featherweight division. Last year, Bork was good enough to go to the States and despite his recent illness appears in condition to go places again. August, a newcomer to martial arts, ranks as a contender in the light and middle divisions, having won in the last few weeks.

Anyone who saw the Dubuque U. game and the "old" Wartburg team, the spirit of Bill Kappmeyer, junior guard from Gellville, as he valiantly sought to make the Wartburg's rocky street. But effective guarding frustrated many of the Dubuque's shots at the basket. Ever and anon, Kapp tied the maples to catch a "strawberry" or two, only to bounce back to the basket and score again. Perhaps the fact that Mademoiselle row comes to the cage games untaught and untested has something to do with the rejuvenated gusto with which he plays. How matters do give on a certain peace of mind conducive to the final exhibition of one's physical prowess. "I care power to you, William!"

The crowd was thrilled during the Penn game by the fine brand of basketball exhibited by Jimmie Mimsion, front forward from Shawbury, Penn. Mimsion seemed to possess an uncanny eye for the hoop that night, collecting 14 points for the Wartburg. It was for that game. His long looping shots brought a chorus of cheers from the fans.

The first ball of the Dubuque U. game showed the Knights at their best in so far as the present case season is concerned. In spite of the fact that the Knights in general were not playing as well as Becker, whose raring fire and humorous expletives were heard from the sidelines, the Knights passed the ball around and worked it in for several points. The crowd was in a state of passing excitement. The Knights passed the ball around and worked it in for several points. The crowd was in a state of passing excitement.

Kalkwarf turned in a fine game of basket ball during the Spartan encounter in the closing minutes of the game. It was the fact that Ferne sat right behind him as he tested his weary legs, that the Knights' team worked together, drawing forth the admiration of the fans.

All evidences seem to point towards a successful year in sports for the Wartburg team. The Wartburg team has decided to team with Terrence, the "Iron Horse" of the team, as he is the only one who can play in the person of the "Iron Horse" of the team, as he is the only one who can play in the person of the "Iron Horse" of the team.

If you find anything wrong with the write-up of the Dubuque game, don't be alarmed. "Royalty" West, illustrious sports writer who covered the game by special assignment for the Wartburg Trumpet, made a bit comment on the "Iron Horse" of the team, as he is the only one who can play in the person of the "Iron Horse" of the team.

Kobe's Little Knights Win 24-23 Ereemore Over Kobe's Cagers

Winning their second game of the season, the Wartburg Rinkydinks outscored the Kobe-Koolies 24 to 23 in a very exciting preliminary game on the night of the Wartburg-Western Union contest.

Each team scored 11 field goals, but two free throws by Nielsen gave the Rinkydinks a one-point advantage over the Koolies, who made only one gift shot.

Following 15 to 1 at the half, the Koolies made a strong comeback in the second half to tie the score at 22 at one time in the last quarter. With seconds to go, the Koolies missed a free throw which would have tied the score.

Scoring Rinkydinks forward, received scoring honors with five field goals.

EAGLES DEFEAT WARTBURG BY 40-29 SCORE

Kappmeyer Leads Knights Last Thurs. Night.

The Knights, playing a listless game, lost to the Golden Eagles of Western Union 40-29 in the 10-11 floor. Wartburg started the game without the services of their star freshman guard, Don Oppeppman, who was injured. But he entered the game during the first half but showed the lack of practice having been out on account of injuries for a week.

The game throughout was very close, and Wartburg started the fight in smoothness, as they showed in the last two home games the score would undoubtedly be different.

Mimsion Sinks First Shot
Wartburg started the game scoring the first basket on a long shot by Mimsion. Wagner followed this with another basket and a free throw. Prochaska, of the Eagle team, followed and put away two baskets. Mimsion of the Knights came through with another shot and then, Leland, Leland and Benet of Western Union took over the situation.

Wartburg was then forced and made one out of his two attempts. The Eagle team took a 10-7 lead. Wartburg was then forced and made one out of his two attempts. The Eagle team took a 10-7 lead. Wartburg was then forced and made one out of his two attempts. The Eagle team took a 10-7 lead.

Defense Bows Down
Starting the second half Kappmeyer received two free throws, making one of them. Prochaska again came through for the Eagles and sank a short bucket. He was the first of Western Union's players, Leland, Caskey and Henningsen, poured in 11 points through the net by their Western team. Becker of Wartburg finally looped a pretty left-handed shot to tie the score by sinking a basket. The game ended 40-29 in favor of Western Union.
